Area of Research: Help ensure that diverse pools of highly trained scientists will be available in adequate numbers and in appropriate research areas to address the Nation's biomedical, behavioral, and clinical research needs.

Release and Expiration: Release Date: June 12, 2009. Expiration Date: September 8, 2012.

Application Deadline: September 07, 2012.

Amount: Annual stipend: Up to $51,552 dependent upon years of experience. Tuition and fees: NIH will provide an amount per individual fellow equal to 60% of the level requested by the applicant institution, up to $4,500 per year. If the program supports postdoctoral individuals in a formal degree-granting training program, the amount provided per fellow enrolled in a degree-granting program will be up to $16,000 per year. Costs associated with tuition and fees are allowable only if they are required for specific courses in support of the research training experience supported by the fellowship. Postdoctoral fellows sponsored by nonfederal or nonprofit institutions (domestic or foreign) will receive an institutional allowance of $7,850 per 12-month period.

Length of Support: Postdoctoral support normally may not exceed 3 years.

Eligible Applicants: Public and State controlled institutions of higher education. See the full announcement for a complete list of eligible applicants.

Summary: The purpose of this individual postdoctoral research training fellowship is to provide support to promising Fellowship Applicants with the potential to become productive, independent investigators in scientific health-related research fields relevant to the missions of participating NIH Institutes and Centers. The proposed postdoctoral training must offer an opportunity to enhance the applicant's understanding of the health-related sciences, and must be within the broad scope of biomedical, behavioral, or clinical research or other specific disciplines.
