Most grantees have been invited by the Foundation to participate in these projects. The Foundation does not seek, nor often fund, unsolicited grant applications. The Foundation does not support individuals; provide grants for capital projects, medical research or direct services.

Summary: The primary mission of the Annie E. Casey Foundation is to foster public policies, human-service reforms, and community supports that more effectively meet the needs of today's vulnerable children and families. In pursuit of this goal, the Foundation makes grants that help states, cities, and neighborhoods fashion more innovative, cost-effective responses to these needs. The Foundation's approach to grant making focuses on making multi-year, multi-site commitments that enables it to invest in long-term strategies and partnerships that strengthen families and communities. In any given year, the Foundation has limited resources to fund additional, unsolicited proposals. The Casey Foundation supports a diverse range of efforts designed to build better futures for millions of children at risk of poor educational, economic, social, and health outcomes. These investment areas include: designing and delivering services to secure and sustain lifelong family connections for children and youth; advocating for reforms in public human service systems to ensure that they operate effectively and efficiently to strengthen families; expanding social and economic security for families in poor communities; gathering and promoting the use of data as a tool for change; and transforming tough and isolated communities into family-supporting environments.
