Summary: The Foundation funds organizations that provide need-based financial aid to students seeking to attend secondary and post-secondary schools. Grants for medicine and health care include capital grants to hospitals, significant research grants, and grants to assist in the provision of health care to under-served communities in New York City and overseas. The Foundation makes significant gifts to emergency food programs, job training, literacy programs, programs for the disabled, and programs that provide emergency or transitional housing for the disadvantaged. The Foundation has concentrated its giving in the area of public policy on international relations and the promotion of the rule of law and democratic institutions around the world. The Foundation makes significant grants to large cultural institutions, smaller arts organizations, community-based arts groups providing special services to specific populations, and cultural exchange that furthers Mr. Starr's interest in international relations and understanding. The Foundation funds selected organizations working on issues relating to the environment and conservation.
