

Grant Title: KNOWLES SCIENCE TEACHING FOUNDATION YOUNG SCHOLARS FELLOWSHIP

Area of Research: Improving high school mathematics and science teaching in the United States

Release and Expiration: April, 2008 release; no expiration date given.

Application Deadline: Pre-Proposal (required): June 30, 2008; Full Proposal: December 1, 2008.

Amount: $110,000 over two years ($55,000 per year); up to three awards.

Length of Support: Two years

Eligible Applicants: Applicants must have received their Ph.D., Ed.D., or equivalent research degree by the start date of the fellowship (July 1, 2009). Applicants from universities and colleges may not be tenured before the start of the fellowship (July 1, 2009). Applicants from other research institutions must be within 6 years of having been awarded their final degree. Applications must be made by the individual applying for the fellowship. Group applications will not be accepted. The proposed project must be a research project.

Agency/Department: Janet H. and C. Harry Knowles Foundation

Summary: The Knowles Science Teaching Foundation (KSTF) Young Scholars Fellowship seeks to support early career scholars engaged in critical research in education. KSTF encourages applications from scholars in all disciplines that promise to make significant scholarly contributions to areas that are consistent with the mission of KSTF, which is improving high school mathematics and science teaching in the United States. More specifically, KSTF supports those who can contribute to understanding recruitment, preparation, induction, mentoring and/or retention of high quality high school science and mathematics teachers.

Detailed Information: http://www.kstf.org/research\_fellowships\_home.aspx