Summary: The Annie E. Casey Foundation is limited to initiatives that have significant potential to demonstrate innovative policy, service delivery, and community supports for children and families. Most grantees have been invited by the Foundation to participate in these projects. Foundation is providing funding to a number of states and localities to help make their public service systems work better for children, families, and communities. Much of our current funding is targeted to our Making Connections Initiative and its 22 sites. Each Making Connections site works with a team to help promote family neighborhood strengthening in a variety of ways, from a targeted effort toward one particular challenge to engaging in a full array of strategies all at once. It is up to those involved to decide how to proceed in their community. Efforts are concentrated around three premises that the Foundation believes are essential to successful outcomes for these families. 1. Creating the opportunity to earn a decent living and build assets; 2. Building close ties with family, neighbors, kin, faith communities and civic groups; and 3. Having reliable services close to home.
