Summary: The For All Kids Foundation awards grants to nonprofit organizations dedicated to helping children and their families through child care, educational, medical, and housing programs. The foundation looks for organizations that have clearly defined goals, skilled management and effective cost control. The foundation's grants help support: child care, after school and summer programs for inner city youths; literacy, tutoring and mentoring programs for under-performing students; educational and outreach programs for at-risk teenagers; healthcare services and wellness programs for low-income children; intervention and emergency shelters for families at risk for domestic violence; and prevention, treatment and cure of serious illnesses afflicting children and their families.

The foundation supports at-risk and disadvantaged children by funding nonprofit organizations that provide childcare, health care, education, and other programs in underserved communities. However, organizations providing direct childcare services are given preference because the foundation's board of directors believes the availability and affordability of quality childcare is a pressing concern for families throughout the United States. Grants are awarded to childcare centers for tuition scholarships and subsidies, for improving facilities, and for upgrading equipment. Grants also are made to childcare centers to help retain teachers and childcare professionals who have demonstrated proficiency in their field.
